Stelburne, Sept. 20-'03.

My dear Friends,

You can hardly know the disappointment it is to Mr. Goddard and me that we could not accept your most kind invitation to spend today with you "beside the Pilgrim Waters". I hope you received his letter in good time, so that you did not expect us. We only wish you were here to enjoy these glorious September days in Stelburne. Indeed your absence gives us a real pass, every time we pass your lovely, empty home -

We go down to Cambridge about the 28th, and if you should remain in Plymouth long after that, and College week does not crowd my poor husband too much, perhaps we may be able to look in upon you for a day which would give us very great pleasure - at all events we hope soon to see you - either in the City or by the Sea -

With many, many thanks for your most welcome letter and cordial invitation, and love to you both,

Always affectionately yours,
Harrietta F. Goodson -
